"O Lord, Pass The Liquor"

And It Came To Pass That

The domain of the Emperor of the Crows' Nest Pass was invaded on Monday last while the Emperor was inspecting his western detachments, disposing of reports, and settling petty quarrels among his tenants and liegemen.

Several of the Emperor's menials were summoned before the Major, and penalties were meted out as each individual deserved. From one moderately called "Angelo," but for one thing passing with the name of "Basso" (not to be confused with Basso), compensation to the extent of $150.00 was extracted. "Angelo" considers this amount very unjust and is endeavoring to prosecute, inasmuch as he is informed that on Thanksgiving Day his trustees, the executive of the Ope Roodleggers Association, paid tribute on his behalf to the extent of $150.00. His trustee-in-chief refuses to give any information regarding this matter, and as a result he is unable to apply for redress either in the way of cancellation of the amount or in a reduction of the same. "Angelo" now being singularly and singularly offended, and thus affording an excellent target for every sportsman, he is obliged to change both his name and his residence and report to one of the Emperor's lieutenants at other parts of the Emperor's domain. He has rendered noble service at the bar—none, no doubt, will be found for him on the platform or in the policy of the Government where next soliciting votes in the Emperor's territory.

Another peaceful citizen in the person of Sam Costa was also commanded and paraded before the O.C., Major Hillcrest. Sam pleaded that he was beyond the suzerainty of the Emperor and that he was conducting a business in an enterprising and husbandlike manner—but of no avail. His back pay to the amount of $150.00 was ordered, forfeited, and without further delay this was done. Sam felt rather nervous but his sovereign lord, the King of Tribes, might learn of the manner in which he was conducting himself among his subjects. He was informed that he was a subject of the King of Tribes, and that he was a subject of the King of Tribes, and that he was a subject of the King of Tribes.

Most tragic, however, are the circumstances surrounding the seizure and incarceration of Domingo Passigotto. Literally translated, this means, "O Lord, pass the liquor" commonly and locally known as "Red." Red, a sprightly fellow of some thirty summers and a rufous-like complexion has been banishing in the Emperor's domain for several summers and rumor hath it that he was soon to be knighted and retire to the inner shrine of the court. He, like many others, had been contributing and paying his dues to each and every tax collector, trader, merchant, or whatever that made demands upon him. He paid both in and in private court and seldom departed. Even his landlord has acclaimed him a very honorable and businesslike viceroy and viceroy. Even foreign foes have entered the Emperor's domain and exacted tribute from Red. We refer here to the raid of the Blood Indians, evidently considering that the Government would be unable to pay Treaty money next month without a $200.00 contribution from Red. He did not dispute the claim and asked for nothing more than a receipt in full. He received the full bottle and Red carried on as usual until Monday, when from an unknown character he received a call to meet him in friendly argument in the Rechequer Court at Coleman. Red, being a very fluent fellow, replied to all queries put to him with "Yes." The friends in dispute proved to be none other than former customers who, having become weary of the eight-hour day, betook themselves to the camp of the enemy and betrayed professional secrets to the scouts of the enemy. Various and numerous charges were laid against Red, and in his eagerness to be obliging and polite in his argument, he answered in the affirmative to each and every question put to him regarding the charges in question. It was previously ascertained that his treasury was in a badly depleted condition and having no chattels worthy of levy after the usual exemption of his tools of trade, namely Black Playing Cards, Two Per Cent (Fannie), Johnnie Walker, etc., his whole body was seized and taken into execution into the cockpit of the home for wayward children at Lathbridge, there to be interred for a period of three months. It is seriously suspected that alienage will be shown in his case and that soon he may be seen once more in his usual haunts.

"Red" piled his trade, occupation, or however, in a very successful manner, has increased every month and continues a considerable portion of his profits (occasional) rising breaking out occasionally to his landlord's property, for which he was compelled to make good, even into the typewriter of a friend's house. I think, the erstwhile partner, recently proved a coward and thus fled was obliged to work overtime and doubly hard. Heavy demands by way of tribute, along with the other troubles above related, nearly wrecked his machine—a Stupa poker, with License Number 21, Province of Saskatchewan. His cheerful and ready disposition drew customers from all walks of life, who each in turn contributed their share to his welfare, excepting of course the class who always draw freely upon the refreshments without pay or "thank you" in return. And in several permanent guests who now would leave, and indicate, thereby, that his departure is greatly mourned by them. Already kind friends are saving the remains found in the derelict on Victoria Street. Old customers will be received as heretofore, but strangers and others who come to see with it any semblance of civility or respectation later because of the wrath to come.

Such conduct as herein relate, along with more nearer home, has caused the Emperor some alarm and much unrest. His weekly revenues are being quite depleted by his own proclivities, as well as by those who parade, ride or motor through the land in variegated uniforms under the guise of policemen. He may elect a powerful abdication in favor of his acting king of Bellevue. This would be a good thing, and would have ample wherewithal to sustain the demands upon the Emperor's domain. The Emperor, however, is not so easily to be deterred. He has in the past, that the uniformed or badged representative from the Edmonton realm could not stand the pace of attending all the functions and found it necessary to forward his representative to send another representative from the school for the blind, so that they might relieve each other in attending the various functions of the king. Some say that these uniformed representatives have other means to perform but for the fact that they are often seen, except in consultation with the king, either in his public or private reception room. The food and refreshments used by these king are evidently of very high order, for although it was a task itself to catch and every one who partake of his hospitality, in uniform. These aide-de-camps of the King perform many and noble deeds for him in assisting him in his trade, commerce and collections. Outlaw traders are quickly run to earth. None save those who first procure a permit from the King or his superior lord, the Emperor, are permitted to engage in any trade or business usual to a King or Emperor in Bordeaux. Occasionally one becomes so negligent that he attempts a little business without the permit—he is speedily apprehended and summarily dealt with. In reporting his misconduct to other Kingdoms, a glowing tribute is paid to the daring and skillful manner in which the rebel was captured by the uniformed guardians of the King or Emperor, the formalities of the trial and the avoidance of proving his guilt are glowingly set forth side by side with a laudatory statement memorializing the able and efficient manner in which the representatives of the King and Emperor of Bordeaux in holding up the law of the land and allowing all and sundry who care to walk between the law and order coming in contact with the law to pass by.

District Court Session

A rather lengthy docket was disposed of by Judge McNeill at a session of the district court held in the Masonic hall the past two days. Messrs. Gillis and Putnam were legal lights representing complainants and defendants in the several cases. Most important were those of J. Davis, of Coleman, versus M. Sella et al. This was an action for damages arising out of this action, while J. E. Gillis of Davis being hit by a skidding car at Coleman early in the season. Damages claimed amounted to

There was another severe tremor experienced in the heart of the bootleg district on Monday of this week, when five or six amateur and old offenders appeared before Judge Harrell and responded promptly to his request for satisfaction funds. Some were assessed in the sum of $180 and costs each, while one Dominica Passalunghi dug up two hundred handsome Canadian simulators as a bribe for the operation of a bootleg joint on Victoria Street, Blaimore, and was allowed to become the honored guest of the attorney-general for a period not to exceed three months. Just because the Scriptures implied that he should "pass the liquor," Red felt within the law in peddling to any Tom, Dick or Harry prohibitive wines of various descriptions. His incarceration is regretted by his friends, who attended the depot on Tuesday to bid him a fond farewell and a happy Christmas. He was escorted to Lethbridge by Constable Moriarty, where he will remain until pardoned. Red was fined $200 on Saturday last for having sold liquor to an Indian, and this dip of Monday practically demoralized his bank account.

One Alberta editor displays considerable knowledge of deep sea fish and fisheries when he comes through to this effect: "Two aeroplane which have been presented to the Newfoundland government, will be used to locate seal herds, which are very destructive to the fishing industry." The Newfoundland seal fishery has been prosecuted now for over seventy years, but never yet because seals have been destructive to fisheries. We have known the same idea held of whales, but Atlantic fishermen look upon whales as most valuable to the cod and herding fisheries for that the whales drive the smaller fish inshore.

Rod and Gun in Canada

To the hunter or fisherman looking for new places to hunt and fish, Rod and Gun in Canada for December will prove invaluable. In a splendidly illustrated article, W. L. Edwards, the well-known writer, graphically pictures the wild life of the Dominion, and Bonaventure Dale takes his readers with him on a goose shooting trip after the big Canadas.

During the month of October all former production records were broken at the Detroit Ford Motor plant. The number of cars turned out fell short of 100,000 by the small margin of 33. October, the 26th was the banner day, when 4,688 cars were built, a rate of one car in every 18 1/2 seconds.

There is talk of the three prairie provinces appealing to the courts to secure possession of their natural resources, which are now under control of the Dominion government.

From the Diary of A Hudson's Bay Clerk in the Seventies

By O. G. MAS-ES (Little Clerk).

(Copyrighted)

We had the district accounts at the Pas that winter and it ever an H. B. clerk was sick of book-keeping I was the man. My Chief (dear A.M.) was a splendid fellow, but disliked all hardship and exposure, while this to me was meat and drink. By dint of much coaxing I had the remnants of what train dogs were left after six trains (four dogs to a train) had been picked by the native drivers—a wretched outfit. They would take when I jumped on the toboggan, but by dint of good feeding and much running they were by no means the worst team in the spring. Corrie was the foregoer, and I secured him in trade from Battee for a fat, lazy husky, and something at my own risk and also why he was too tough to trade even. I soon found out for on a trip to the Mountain there was a long muskox traverse and just one decent spot to boil the kettle. On reaching this spot with an appetite sharper than a wolf, I sang out, "Whoa, Corrie!" He turned his head, gave me a cunning look, then bolted like a Jack rabbit, and in at least two hours before I got near the sleigh again, with feelings too deep for words.

I realized then why Battee traded even on this it appears was his usual game, but it was not until the following winter that I got even with Corrie, when, with man against dog, I ran him down between Cumberland House and Fort La Corne, and that region to take the heart out of him. But I am a long way off from those planned district accounts. It is always the way in the north; start any subject you like and it will always end in Dog, and yet again Dog. I have heard Donald A. Smith when he was Governor of the Company, with other high officials at the Fort Garry mess, when the desert was put on the table and the wine glasses filled, all vying with one another as to the merits of their particular dog trains, and I think one must hand it to Donald A. for the best yarn. Perhaps that is why he was made top-dog.

We had several outposts from the Pas that winter and, when the accounts got too much for me, A.M. would suggest that an inspection should be made and the native trader checked up. It was a good winter for fur and I thoroughly enjoyed the trips here and there. There was but one fault, and that was that they were too short. However, before spring I had a ten-day tramp and that eased the tension for a while.

"Along about the end of February we found there was likely to be a great shortage of ammunition in the spring, especially if the rat hunt was big, and all signs pointed that way. The nearest point to a further supply was Grand Rapids Post at the mouth of the Saskatchewan River, something over 150 miles away by trail. The snow was deep and no trail broken through; but it was that or nothing. So A.M. decided to send six dog trains and I volunteered to lead the party. We started out early one day heavily loaded with dog-fodder, as we had the catch on the trip down, there being no supply at The Rapids. It took us four days to reach the point, when we spelled a day, then loaded our sleds with 400 lbs. each, consisting of dog food, provisions and bedding on top of that, and started for home."

It had snowed I think every day since we left the Pas. The weather was awfully cold and windy, with no sign of the trail we had broken coming down. Cedar Lake was the only place of going on the whole trip, but the dogs and the men were getting in soft heavy snow, and every driver had to use a pushing stick and work equally hard with his dogs. We had a spare man to break track ahead, but I soon found all must make turns, as one hour or less in front of the dogs was enough for any of us and, then you would be wet to the skin with the heavy exertion.

Five nights had passed on our homeward journey and our rations were about done, both for men and dogs. There were still some thirty miles to go yet and the men were getting out of hand and mutinous. My own feet cut to pieces with the snowshoe lines, but I did not dare show any feeling in the matter, for at the least sign of weakness on my part the loads would have been checked on the job. There is only one cure that I know of for sore feet snowshoeing, and that is to treat them like your hands, keep away from the fire, and at every stop take off your moccasins and duffers, then wash in the snow till your feet get numb. (To be continued)

Consider That Veterans Are Absorbed Into Civil Life

No Special Provision Will Be Made For Finding Work For Returned Soldier.

Winnipeg.—A special despatch to the Free Press from its Ottawa correspondent reads: "Whatever Federal methods are devised during the coming winter months to cope with the unemployment situation, which threatens to be acute in the 'veteran' centres, they will be adopted without particular regard for the returned soldier. Apart from the care of seriously disabled men, which will be continued under the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment for some time yet, the returned soldier in future will have to fend for himself, and is looked upon as having been absorbed into the civil life."

Any means which are devised by the federal authorities to deal with the unemployment situation will have regard for the unemployed as a whole and without distinction. The assistance provided to help unemployed returned men over last winter expired in March last (for single men) and

April (for married men). Under the provisions of the appropriations only about $10,000,000 were disbursed, employment having been found for the majority of needy cases within a brief period of the receipt of first financial assistance. In fact it cannot be said that there was any sense of the assistance were realized.

There is now no parliamentary provision for a continuation of the assistance during the coming winter and the machinery for doing so has been pretty well scrapped. During the past summer, it is stated, there were few cases of unemployment among returned men.

Unemployment is now largely a provincial matter. The federal authorities, however, undertake to pay half the cost of the upkeep of the provincial labor bureau, while the labor department assists in the compilation of statistics showing at what points and in what particular industry labor is required.

Praise Heroism During Days of the Crimean Disaster.

Constaninople.—Allied officers here praise the heroism of General Wrangel's troops during the days of the Crimean disaster. The cavalry divisions of sub-Generals Markoff, Barbovitch and Skalon suffered terrific losses in defending Perchop, which it is believed would have held out if Wrangel's forces were not cut off from the frozen Dnieper sea.

The Niemetski regiment was virtually wiped out, there being only five survivors.

United States Farmers Would Hold Wheat

Advised to Not Market Grain Until Price Is Restored.

Kansas City.—A nation-wide producers' strike, to combat the falling prices of farm products, was urged in a call sent out by the National Farmers' Union to its local units throughout the country. The proposed strike was urged in retaliation for what the convention considered abnormal deflation in prices of farm products, through which "it was asserted the farmers of the United States have been robbed of one billion dollars in reduced value of products now on hand. All farmers were urged to hold this year's production from the markets until 'profit-making levels' are restored."

The action of the National Farmers' Union was in line with a "wheat strike" called several weeks ago by the Wheat Growers' Association of the United States. Delegates asserted a considerable quantity of this year's wheat crop was being held off the market by farmers.

Defence Problems

Imperial Matters Will Be Discussed At Forthcoming Meeting of Prime Ministers.

London.—Right Hon. Andrew Bonar Law explained in the House of Commons the meeting of prime ministers of the empire summoned for June next. It will be a meeting along the lines of the Imperial War cabinet meetings which took place in 1917-18. Mr. Bonar Law added that there is a general agreement on imperial defense matters which will require joint examination in the near future. "But I am not yet able to say precisely what arrangements will be made for their discussion."

Critical Situation In India.

Penitentiary Reforms

Changes in Administration Likely as Result of Work Done By Royal Commission.

Ottawa.—Many important changes in the administration of Canadian penitentiaries are likely to be made as the result of the work now being done by the Royal Commission named by the Government some time ago to draft new regulations for the penitentiaries. Several sittings of the commission already have been held, and some valuable suggestions have been received from all classes of Canadian officials.

The commission, before drafting its findings, will visit New York and learn what it can from people responsible for the administration of United States penal institutions.

Saskatoon Winter Fair.

Saskatoon, Sask.—The most successful winter fair in the history of Saskatoon was held last week. Showings of heavy draft horses were particularly good, and over $6,000 in prizes was distributed. Albert Robins, of Laura, Sask., won the boys' calf competition. James I. Moffatt, of Carroll, Man., was awarded the grand championship in fat steers. Follett Brothers, of Duval, Sask., took a large number of prizes in sheep classes.

The annual sheep and swine sale was held. The movement in hogs was not very brisk, but there was considerable trading in sheep, the highest ram bringing $140.

HEART SO BAD WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Eva P. Yatsman, Krugersdorf, Ont., writes: "I feel that I must write and tell you of the benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly bad with my heart, nerves and fainting spells. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better, although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls whenever I took a walk, and I was not safe to leave me alone at any time. At last I decided to re-bore, and an almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me, and I advise any one troubled with their heart to try them, as I am confident they will find relief." Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The I. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Rather an unusual sight was witnessed on the street in Blairmore a few days ago. Four lumberjacks, who had been down from the camps for a few days, stood talking, and each had a black left eye, won in a scrap the night previous. One thing about lumberjacks, they believe in treating everybody alike.

Hillcrest Happenings

(By Felix)

The splendid progress of Master Joseph Royle on the violin is giving him popularity.

William Adam has been appointed pithouse at Hillcrest mine, south-side, in succession to M. Boyio.

Miss Margaret Foster has returned to Cranbrook, after spending a few days with her parents.

Several houses are now being moved here from Frank, the latest enroute being for John Ironmonger.

Hillcrest will look like the carnival of Venice when the curling and skating rinks get going. Seeing that there is a skating rink in every village in this district, would it not be a good idea to try and form a hockey league?

The attendance at the Sunday School last Sunday was 108, which means that in the near future better accommodation will have to be found. There is also a shortage of teachers. Will anyone volunteer for work in this worthy cause?

Felix has been asked to announce through these columns that the meeting in connection with the Hillcrest Club will take place on Sunday evening, December the 5th, when no doubt the Union hall will be secured for the occasion. This meeting is for all who were members at the commencement of the Club, whether veterans or not. This should be an interesting meeting, as several of the old officers have promised to attend, if possible, and no doubt the result will be that the Club will be restored to its former status for which it was formed. A good attendance is requested.

Salvation Army in Congress at Winnipeg

General Booth Meets His Officers

It was the privilege of the officers of the Canada West Territory to gather in council with the General for two days, November 9th and 10th. These councils were, in a peculiar sense, the central gatherings of the Congress. The importance of them was felt by the officers and emphasized by the General.

Two days of giving and receiving! Two days of earnest outpouring of heart by the General and eager listening by the officers. What a privilege! It was a season of hope and desire, both for the present and the future.

Illuminating and inspiring was the story of the Army's advancements; moving and tender were the General's references to the founder. With lavish hand were the treasures of wisdom and experience opened up.

How wonderfully were the fundamentals, the foundations, upon which the Army is built and by which it exists, restated and re-affirmed! During years of change these have remained unchanged.

But, perhaps, what was of more importance than anything that was said, was the wonderful spirit which the General manifested. He was the living embodiment of that something, known as the Army spirit. A large proportion of the officers in session were young, and to these this spirit was nothing short of revelation.

The effect of such gatherings cannot be calculated. The blessing and power of them will be carried to every corner of this western land. Officers assembled full of hope and expectation; they return with the thrill of the councils in their hearts, and with new vigor and courage. The common task will take upon itself a new significance and sacredness.

The General has left us for other fields, but in the hearts of the officers of the Canadian West Territory is a debt of gratitude which can never be repaid. —Observer.

Rev. W. T. Young returned from Lethbridge on Tuesday.

There has been a serious epidemic of "dry" coughs in Blairmore this week.

Dr. R. K. Lillie attended a Shriners' meeting at Cranbrook yesterday and looks none the worse for "the wear and tear."

There will be a special meeting of Crows' Nest Encampment, I. O. O. F., on Wednesday night next for the purpose of conferring degrees.

Wo Kee has disposed of his Blairmore laundry business to his cousin, I. Come Yet. Wo Kee is leaving next week to join his wife and family away back in Chinese woods.

While Constable Moriarty and our town police have succeeded in having the Lord's Day Act obeyed in Blairmore, we learn that such a condition does not prevail in our neighbor town of Coleman. It will be remembered that a few weeks ago local people were notified by Coleman provincial police that unless they closed tight their places of business on Sundays, prosecutions would follow. To find as to whether or not the same activity was prevailing at Coleman, evidence was procured that several places of business, such as soft-drinks counters, were in full operation at 2 a. m. on Sunday, the 14th November, and the question is asked, "Why should Blairmore be the goat?"

Evidently the "Delaneys" are not all dead yet and the Attorney-General of the Province of Alberta will have other occasions to pardon and set free his criminal employees. The latest on record is reported from Lethbridge, where a stool-pigeon handcuffed a woman, scared the wits out of some Chinamen and pulled off other stunts that only a stool-pigeon could be guilty of. He informed the police that he had been doped, but did not say that the dope had been supplied him free gratis by his employers.

Included in the material employed in the enforcement of the Alberta Liquor Act are such noted and honorable characters as hold-ups, knife artists, black hands, prostitutes, illiterate Indians, dope fiends, and other animals.

The annual meetings of rate-payers of the towns of Blairmore and Coleman will be held on Monday night next in the town halls.

Cowley Happenings

Mrs. Wells, of Hillcrest, is paying a visit to Mrs. Robert Littleton.

Harvey Bouthillier has shipped a car load of cattle to Calgary.

Mr. Porter has returned from a recent business visit to Calgary.

Mrs. Tamblin has been visiting friends in town for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete McCarthy have moved to Michel for the winter.

Abie Cockayne and Mrs. Watterson, of Porcupine Hills were united in marriage this week.

Mrs. James Bird has taken her little boy George to Macleod to have his tonsils removed.

Considerable work has been done lately on the Cowley waterworks system, putting the pipes in better shape, stopping leaks, etc. There seems to be a good flow at present and we hope this supply will continue.

The social evening given by the Oddfellows on Tuesday evening in the Masonic hall was a decided success. Songs, recitations, music and games were the principal amusements of the evening. At midnight a long table was spread, loaded with good things to eat and everybody seemed to enjoy themselves to the utmost.

A large crowd gathered in Tustian's hall on Wednesday evening to hear the educative and instructive lecture given by Professor Ottewell, of the University of Alberta, which was illustrated by lantern slides. His subject was "Canada of Tomorrow." The pictures and lecture were Canada from coast to coast, showing natural resources, agriculture, scenery, etc. This is the first of a series of four lectures which are to be given under the auspices of the Women's Institute.

At the regular meeting of the town council to-night, Mayor Ewan tendered his resignation. Mr. Ewan and family leave to-morrow (Friday) morning for their new home at Cowichan, Vancouver Island.

We don't know what the men did to deserve such treatment, but two fair ladies of Coleman are threatening to "sit on the school board."
